Business Cycle Surveys with Special Reference to Pacific Basin Economies

Papers presented at the 19th CIRET Conference Proceedings, Osaka 1989

Edited by
KARL HEINRICH OPPENLÄNDER
IFO Institute for Economic Research
Munich

and
GÜNTER POSER
University of Darmstadt
Darmstadt

Contents

PANEL DISCUSSION

Present Economic Trends Worldwide and Forecasts for 1990 (A Short-term Outlook) 1

Chairperson
Y. KOSAI, Tokyo, Japan

Speakers
J.M. DOWLING, Manila, Philippines
L.R. KLEIN, Philadelphia, USA
Ch. MORIGUCHI, Osaka, Japan
G. NERB, Munich, West-Germany
R. NILSSON, Paris, France

G. NERB
Summary 3

SESSION 1

Analysis of Business Cycles with Special Reference to Pacific Basin Economies 7

Y. NARIKAWA
A Model Analysis of the Interdependency of Economies 9

H. OSADA
Business Cycles in Five ASEAN Countries 31

Ph.A. KLEIN/G.H. MOORE
Analyzing Leading and Coincident Indicators for Pacific Basin Countries 47

Y. NAKAMURA
Economic Interdependence and Transmission of Economic Impacts in the Pacific Region 71

K.B. CHOW
Summary 99
SESSION 2 A
Examination of Economic Theory by Means of Empirical Research

J.A. CARLSON
Cross Section Evidence on Some Macroeconomic Hypotheses 103

W. FRANZ/Th. HOFMANN
Unemployment and Stability of Inflation: The Concept of the NAIRU in an International Perspective and an Estimation for Germany Using Business Survey Data 105

A.H. WESTLUND/S. ÖHLEN
On Business Cycle Forecasting and the Problem of Variability in Dynamic Structures 125

R. SALZGEBER
Microeconomic Behaviour of Firms - An Empirical Study for Switzerland 153

W. GERSTENBERGER
Summary 175

SESSION 2 B
Improving Forecasts by Including Survey Results into Indicators

J.-J. VANHAelen/J. PALATE
Use of Survey Results in Macro-Economic Forecasts: The Findings of the National Bank of Belgium 201

G.R. GREEN
Choosing Business Cycle Indicators with Attention to the Likelihood of Data Revisions 203

D. BRAND/G. NERB/F.J. KLEIN/K. STOCK
Construction and Performance of a World Economy Leading Indicator 225

T. AKABANE
Recent Findings and Interpretations of the Business Cycle Fact - A Note 249

R. NILSSON
Summary 291

SESSION 3 A
Use of Qualitative Data in Empirical Analysis

R. ETTER/M. NERLOVE/D. WILLSon
Swiss Inventory Investment Behaviour - A Recursive Simultaneous Equations Model 305

K. RECHKEMMER
The Subjective Side of Economic Behaviour: Further Econometric Results 307

A. MELO
MIPI: A Forecasting Model for the Colombian Industrial Sector Based on Survey Variables 337

Th.P. KEMPf
Measuring Risk and Expected Return in Portfolio Management by Using IFO Business Survey Data 389

W.C. DUNKELBERGER
Summary 411

SESSION 3 B
Use of Survey Results for Economic Policy Decisions

Sh. NISHIJIMA/N.H. INOUE
Approaches to Post-War Business Cycles in Japan 415

G. KREMmER
Identifying the Nature of Markets Disequilibria in the French Economy over the Past Ten Years by Making Use of the Survey Results Carried out by the Bank of France 417

A. LÖNnoQvIST/S. ÖHLEN/A.H. WESTLUND
Statistical Surveillance of Peaks and Troughs of Business Cycles 457

G. de CINDIO
The Use of Survey Results for Economic Policy Decisions 497

G. POSER
Summary 521
SESSION 4 A

Investment Surveys

K. AIGINGER
New Trends in the Investment Behaviour in the Eighties 543

F. NEUMAN
Capital Spending in West Germany - Investment Motivation and Environment 583

N. ARAI
Capital Spending in Japan - Investment Motivation and Environment 615

Ch. MORIGUCHI
Forecasting Errors in Business Investment Behaviour and Contributions of Investment Plan Survey 639

J.-P. CLING
Investment Plans and Sales Expectations: An Analysis of the INSEE Investment Survey Results 661

A. LÖNQVIST
Summary 685

SESSION 4 B

Consumer Surveys

W.F. van RAIJ/H.J. GIANOTTEN
Consumer Confidence, Spending, Saving and Credit (1972 - 1987) 693

J. UEMURA
The Efficiency of the Consumer Sentiment Index in Japan 715

E. GONCALVES de OLIVEIRA
Summary 733

List of Participants 739